

It is about time that our Federal Regulatory agencies start acting in the public interest. It is sad that corporate America dominates the agencies that are supposed to regulate them. What ever happened to anti-trust laws in this country?